

Psalm 9:10 "And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee: for thou, LORD, hast not forsaken them that seek thee."

Can you imagine?

Can you imagine as a young mother trying to work, and care for your young children at the same time? Of course you could! However, could you imagine being outside, on the edge of a mountain, in harsh conditions like: rain, mud, and steep cliffs, and then, caring for your children at the same time? That would be something new for all of us!

Many, if not all, of the mothers here are picking coffee in order to survive. For them, it is not a choice to work, but an absolute necessity. When bringing their children into the fields the children are exposed to dangerous conditions, as well as an unpredictable climate.

Here at the Pre School: Pescaditos del Salvador, God has blessed us with the opportunity to open up another option for these families! The Mothers can bring their children to us to care for them, while they work.

How can I help?

Many people ask how can they best help these Moms, and their children. Truly the best way is by spreading the word! By advocating for these families we can increase awareness and bring much needed help and support they would otherwise not have! Join us today, help us support these families during coffee harvest: Go online to MissiontoCostaRica.com and see where you can participate.

Some needs and/or prayer requests:

1. We continue to prepare a venue for a Nicaraguan Church, pray that God continues to open doors! We need to purchase cables for the instruments, and another microphone.
2. We are reaching capacity! We are going to need more room for future growth. Please pray that God continue to provide for our future plans for a central Resource Center building. For more details send us an email at: consonanthomes@gmail.com
3. This ministry is the only one of it's kind in Costa Rica! We cannot do it alone. We are praying for people who are called to missions, who are properly funded, who have a heart for the lost, and a heart for the poor, to join us in extending the reach to fulfill our calling from the Lord expressed in: Mark 16:15.
