MISSIONAL UPDATES

Since my last newsletter over a month ago I have raised 2/3 of my goal amount. I'm so thankful for all the love and support and am continuing to work my business in preparation for my departure

Almost There!

I want to first thank all of you so much for supporting me so far. I've been so encouraged by your generosity. I am getting monthly support from my home church Generation but I would not be even close to what is needed without all of you.

I am getting very near to being able to close up shop here in Pensacola and leave for Romania! I'm believing that after sending out this newsletter, I will have everything necessary-funds, prayers, emotional support for Oradea. I can't wait to update you all on what I'm doing when I actually get there!

These past few months have been a little discouraging, as I thought I would already be living in Romania by now. However, I know God has His timing and that everything will work for the good! Thank you all so much for standing with me in this season. It's beyond encouraging. As you know, I will be flying to Oradea to work with Biserica Impact. I'm really excited to join with this group of awesome people and get to work. I have also been looking into the possibility of doing some other mission work in Bucharest with some teams. This isn't a forsure thing yet but I'm certainly excited about the prospect. I have still been working my business but am very ready to be on the mission field doing something much more rewarding and meaningful. Thanks again for caring and loving me enough to support me. Grace and peace.
