Getting to know the new Mothers!

Each year we are excited to meet the new families that come to Costa Rica to pick coffee. This year we have enrolled eight new children into the Preschool. Some of these children have never before stayed with anyone but their mom, so you can imagine the activity and stimulation of these first few weeks!

Many times when we think about missionaries we remember the week when they came to speak at church, or when we read about them in Guideposts.

Have you ever thought that a missionary might just look exactly like you?

Our calling as we choose to follow Christ, is to keep our antennas up and look for ways that God can use us in our everyday life. That means we all are missionaries!

I cannot tell you the amount of times I have sat and listened to our Preschool Mom's share their life stories and I am utterly astonished by their trust and faith in Jesus. I can say by truly listening I have learned so much about who God is and His deep love for His children. No one is forgotten and no one is left behind!

We have a mission to love! Not to correct, condemn, or to tell others what to do, but to truly LOVE. This may mean setting our desires aside and making ourselves available to God. So He can use us the way we've been blessed, to bless others around us.

A challenge for all of us this Holiday season is to look around and see if there is a way to share God's love with others in need! I promise you will not be disappointed, and God will amaze you with what He can do with someone who just says yes to Him!

Reconnecting with the Mothers from last year!

It always amazes me how Mothers from two completely different backgrounds can connect as if they were family. We love sharing dinners, laughs and spending time just hanging out.

It has been an incredible experience sharing Jesus by reflecting His love and living alongside our preschool families.

Prayer Request: Please keep us in mind this Holiday season. Our resources have been desperately lacking, and we have struggled to raise enough money to keep the doors open this season. Please pray for us as we continue to search for ways to get things done as efficiently as possible, and make every cent count!!
