November 2019

Blessings to you my friends. This note finds me in Mass. and Utah for a little R&R with my families in both states. November is the only month that I am free of my school schedule. School is on vacation until January 2, 2020 when we return to classes for the new year. I have a small group of teachers and administration staff working to sign up returning school children and the new children who will be signing in for the first time. I will be returning on November 30th and will be off and running as we have our Christmas celebration on Monday, December 3rd. So big things are happening here at AyO Christian school. We have been blessed with funds to buy 1000 warm blankets for our children. God is faithful, so I'm seeing about the purchase of these wonderful blessings before I head north, as well as last minute decisions for the grand celebration of Christmas, the birth of our Savior. Thank you all who gave so we could share this blessings to your children at AyO.

I ask you to please keep us in your prayers, that this coming year we will be able to continue to be a blessing to so many of the children of the mountains of Guatemala and that we can continue to share God's love with these precious children and their families. Again I want to thank you all who have been such a great part of our mission here with these precious children, where hundreds of children have come to know Jesus Christ as their Savior during the 44 years we have been sharing Christ to the lost of this world.

Wishing you all a wonderful Thanksgiving, blessed Christmas and New Year. See you all January 2020.
