Dear Friends,

Last night we met with John and Lindsey for dinner. The next morning John posted this on facebook:

“I started CRYING uncontrollably at Sonny’s barbecue today...

Today marked a historic moment for me. For those of you who know me, my parents have been missionaries to Tanzania, Africa since 1994. They have given their lives completely for Christ.

As I was growing up, I’ve seen and experienced my parents struggle to make ends meet. I followed my parents to endless amounts of churches and individuals to ask for sponsorship.

My parents sacrificed being at my high school and college graduation and other monumental moments in our lives because they were unable to afford a plane ticket. My parents made less than 20k a year, but their spiritual life was priceless.

Today, I was so privileged and honoured to be able to SPONSOR Karen & Andre Provost. I wasn’t able to control my emotions as we were having dinner at Sonny’s. People were probably wondering why a grown man was balling his eyes out. I am so thankful that God was able to put me in a position where I could be on the other side of the table as a sponsor.

I couldn’t help but think of my mom and dad when I looked at the Provosts. Memories of seeing them get rejected truly moved me. But also the memories of complete strangers who paid for my entire college tuition, and their mission work, is deeply engraved in me.

I’m so glad God gave me this opportunity. I have been amazingly blessed in my Real Estate journey. My numbers, as a rookie realtor, are in the top 1% in the industry. I know this is ALL GOD and He has a plan for me. To take all the blessings for myself without giving would be vain and meaningless.

The Provosts have an amazing story serving the Lord! They are headed back to Thailand to spread the Gospel to an unreached people group. The true heroes are the missionaries that go fearlessly to the unknown and to the unreached. I am so privileged to have had dinner with them and to be a part of their journey.

If you are interested in helping their journey please reach out to me. They are still looking for more sponsors. They have reached 60% in their sponsorship status.

Please share this post if you know who could help the Provosts! Thank you!”

We are blessed and honored to have John and Lindsey partnering with us to reach the Isan people. Not only them, but we are also honored for others who have come onboard and those of you who have partnered with us over the years. The clock is ticking, Christ is coming back. Isan villagers are still eagerly waiting to hear the gospel for the first time. We will not postpone here longer. Therefore, we now have our one-way tickets and will be leaving on October 28 to Thailand.

Continue to pray for our travels in driving back to Vancouver WA from Pensacola FL. We plan to arrive in Vancouver by mid-September. There, we will pack, prepare our mobile home to sell, and say good bye to our family and church in the Northwest. Thank you for your prayers and for your support that we are believing will reap a great harvest for Him.

In His Service,

Andre & Karen Provost
