

Blessings to you all who have been so faithful in prayers and support. I must comment that the weather here has been super cold and I know that those warm blankets we gave the children for Christmas are being put to good use during the winter months here in the mountains where we live. Again thank you all who gave so we could share these lovely blankets with our school children. We as well were able to share some blankets with street children in the large city of Quetzaltenango where so many children live alone on the street. As in so many cities around the world today, Guatemala has a whole community of street people. Prayers for these folks and in particular the young and the very old. They so need Jesus.

Our school population has just exploded in growth. We are at this point having to say no, we have no more space in the class rooms for any more students. We are at 1030 students for the school year 2020. God is faithful always. More students means more teachers, more desks, well more of a whole lot of things. One very important detail is the hot drinks and sweet breads that we share with the students, especially the little kindergarten kiddies, 1st and 2nd grades, who come in the early morning freezing cold many without breakfast. We like to share with them at recess time something to fill empty tummies. We are already planning to build 4 more classrooms during our vacation time, October - December 2020. Always something going on here at Alfa y Omega Christian school. As I say we must only believe. We have a great God who is faithful always. He sees our every need. Blessings to you all, and prayers for us please, that we are able to guide and share Jesus with these children He has sent to us.

Yours in Christ

Judy Hernandez

