MERRY CHRISTMAS from Judy Hernandez

Blessings to you all my friends and a blessed Christmas to you and your love ones. As we look onward to 2022 I want to wish you a wonderful New Year blessing and believing that this coming year will be an awaking of people all over the world over of the need to have Our Lord Jesus in their lives and hearts.

I will be spending this Holiday season here in Guatemala with my family as I usually do. Having the somewhat changed Christmas Party for your children of AyO Christian school. We have the children come in small groups to receive their gifts and candy. It as always was a wonderful moment for the children and the staff of our school. Thank you all who gave so we could bless our little ones as we have for many years now with a lovely warm blanket.

Our family will celebrate Christmas night together sharing gifts with the children and the usual special Christmas tamale and punch made of fruits. Then on Christmas Day I have the whole family over to my house for the usual American traditional, dinner of turkey with all the trimmings and lots of yummy desserts.

Sending prayers and love to you all from myself, my family, my teachers, office staff, and all the children and their families who form part of Alfa y Omega Christian school.
