DISCIPLE MAKING MOVEMENTS
CENTRAL MEXICO

Dear friends and family,

Missionary life in Central Mexico is back in full swing. We received many hugs and many "Qué milagro!" (What a miracle!) greetings as we returned to our regular discipleship groups. We were able to bring back some Little People toys that my children used when they were little. The children in the village have thoroughly enjoyed playing with them.

In one of the groups, our host's brother had come to live with them. Right away, we could see that he had a need for reading glasses. So we set about helping him find his lens strength. Once we had that figured out, he started reading the Bible and didn't want to put it down even when it was time to begin the study. It took some persuasion. Afterward, he told us how much he enjoyed the discussion and then thanked us for the reading glasses.

Our time within the BE Church plant has been successful. There have been several new families that have joined and are being discipled. We continue to help BeChurch with their Multi-Media presentations. Lydia and Hayden are helping with the children's class a few Sundays a month. Gideon is helping with serving the snacks. Lydia has joined the worship team by playing the cajon drum. Tynan was invited to preach this month on having "The Mind of Christ."

We ARE NOW on TikTok! Woot! Woot! The purpose of these short videos is to show you in real time relevant content that is related to the disciple-making movements that you are a part of, here in Central Mexico. Some of the videos will show the cultural adjustments of living in Mexico, funny sayings (dichos) videos, or devotional videos in English/Spanish. We want you to come follow us on TikTok @thekingsharvest.

Also to note, that the English/Spanish devotional content goes out to a unique audience of unbelievers within the area we living in, so it's key to remember that even TikTok can be a mission field and the impact for God we can have to reach the unreached of TikTok. We are responsible to plant the seed and God will give the increase

Praise reports: We were thankful for your prayers of safety last Tuesday. We were almost in a collision with a wild, untamed colt up on one of the mountain roads who bolted backward to go across the road. God protected us and the colt missed us by a few inches. It was scary, but not a scratch was on him or us.

Prayer Requests: : We are continuing our prayer walking to include several villages that are en route to where we are currently ministering. Please pray for open hearts and for persons of peace that the Lord will draw to Himself.
