Serving in Guatemala

Greetings to you dear friends who have prayed and supported Alfa y Omega Christian School. I want you to know how very important you are to us and the children we share the Gospel and a Christ-centered education with. Your prayers and support are changing the lives of these precious children and young adults. They might not have heard the Word had they not entered these big green doors of AyO Christian. As I shared with you in our August newsletter, here the whole month of September is a joyful event celebrating the independence of Guatemala from Spain. In 1821 Guatemala became an independent nation. The Catholic Church was the dominant religion but now, the Evangelical church has grown greatly and in all the large and small towns across the country. You will find many different dominations where the Word of God is shared. We are allowed to teach and share freely the Word of God in our Christian school. We have a great God. We have already started our trips with our school band as is the custom here. So the photos you will see along with this newsletter are from recent outings of our school band. As I have mentioned before the Guatemalan folks love a parade with lots of music and hey noise - a joyful noise unto the Lord. We share God's love where ever we Go. Alfa y Omega Christian School is well known all over Guatemala. Our sharing God's Word, our sports, our band, champions in Chess, and awards won for outstanding students - all this is thanks to your faithful support from dear folks like yourselves who believe in us so we can share the salvation of our Lord to our children and their families. Thanks to you all sending love and blessing to each one of you.
